

Parma Summer School 2020

"One Health" – Virtual event

Programme

09 June 2020

Time	Topic	Presenter
09H30	Welcoming messages	Bernhard Url, Executive Director, European Food Safety Authority Paolo Andrei, Magnifico Rettore, University of Parma
09H40	Opening of the Parma Summer School 2020 – One Health	Daniele del Rio, School of Advanced Studies, University of Parma Stef Bronzwaer, European Food Safety Authority
First session		Moderation: Stef Bronzwaer, European Food Safety Authority
Time	Topic	Presenter
09H45	One Health in the context of international organisations. Tripartite Alliance. Animal Health	Tianna Brand, World Organisation for Animal Health Sean Shadomy, UN Food and Agriculture Organisation
10H15	One Health – Environment & Health	Alberto Mantovani, Istituto Superiore di Sanità, Italy
10H30	One Health – Perspective of the policy makers	Jean-Charles Cavitte, European Commission
10H45	Questions & Answers
11H05	Break
Second session		Moderation: Silvia Bonardi, University of Parma
Time	Topic	Presenter
11H20	Overview of foodborne zoonoses	Luca Busani, Istituto Superiore di Sanità
11H35	Case study: STEC, insight on hybrid types	Stefano Morabito, EU Reference Laboratory for Escherichia coli
11H50	Case study: Hepatitis E, a little-known emerging zoonosis	Nerea Garcia, VISAVET Health Surveillance Centre, Spain
12H05	Case study: Avian flu, collaborative research and links to One Health approach	Cornelia Adlhoch, European Centre for Disease Prevention and Control
12H20	Case study: Whole Genome Sequencing in food safety	Beatriz Guerra, European Food Safety Authority
12H35	Questions & Answers
12H55	End of the first day

10 June 2020

Third session		Moderation: Edoardo Puglisi, Catholic University of Sacro Cuore & Sergio Ghidini, University of Parma
Time	Topic	Presenter
09H30	Introduction to Antimicrobial resistance	Pier Sandro Cocconcelli, Catholic University of Sacro Cuore, Italy
09H45	Case study: Impact of reducing antimicrobial usage in animal production, lessons from colistin	Maria Ugarte, VISAVET Health Surveillance Centre, Spain
10H00	Case Study: Strategies to reduce the use of antimicrobials in livestock	Lis Alban, Agriculture&Food Council, Denmark
10H15	Antimicrobial consumption and stewardship in food producing animals: the Italian strategy	Loris Alborali, Istituto Zooprofilattico Sperimentale della Lombardia e dell'Emilia-Romagna, Italy
10H30	Break
10H35	Emerging Risks Identification- One Health Approach	Raquel García Matas, European Food Safety Authority
10H50	Data-driven surveillance: transforming data into actionable information in the One Health context	Fernanda Dórea, National Veterinary Institute, Sweden
11H05	Questions & Answers
11H25	Break
Fourth session		Moderation: Domagoj Vrbos, European Food Safety Authority & Giovanni Sogari, University of Parma
11H40	Socio-economic and historical aspects to consider when implementing One Health: case study for Romania	Alexandru Supeanu, National Sanitary Veterinary and Food Safety Authority, Romania
11H55	Food scares, information and markets: Are consumers and media rational?	Mario Mazzocchi, University of Bologna, Italy
12H10	One Health European Joint Programme (OHEJP)	Ludovico Pasquale Sepe, German Federal Institute for Risk Assessment (BfR), Germany
12H25	Questions & Answers
12H45	Concluding remarks and closure of the Parma Summer School 2020 – One Health	Barbara Gallani, European Food Safety Authority Emanuela Zanardi, University of Parma, Italy
12H55	End of the event	